

public static void main();

Year 2022/2023 - Kick-IT camp - August 30th

Enjoy the morning

During the Kick-In you get to see a lot of new faces, and experience a lot of new things. Maybe you've been to a party for the first time, or perhaps you have tried a brand new sport that you really like. In these few days, you get to know your study association and all it has to offer. Every five weeks, Inter-Actief organises a Friday afternoon drink. At this drink, we have a small magazine, the "public void close();" for people to read while enjoying a freshly drafted drink.

In your hands you have a special edition of this magazine, the aptly named "public static void main();" which contains a lot of interesting stories about Inter-Actief and other parts of student lives. As you might be slightly hungover from the drink yesterday, this is the perfect moment to relax with this magazine. If you solve the puzzle on the back, you might even win a small prize. Have fun with the rest of the Kick-In, and I hope to see you again at one of our activities!

The Kick-IT camp

From Krisiyan

The Kick-In has always been associated with the start of your student life. During those 9 days full of activities 1st-year students not only get to know the university and their study but also make a lot of new friends. Some of them even stay for a lifetime.

The study association I.C.T.S.V. Inter-Actief organizes the study-related part of the Kick-In. That includes the Do-group market on the first Wednesday, the Bring Your Own Meat Barbecue on Sunday and the Camp from Monday until Wednesday. The tradition of having a camp with a variety of fun activities was invented many years ago and this year's Kick-IT committee is continuing it in their own vision. Who is the Kick-IT committee?

- Hella Janssen (Chairwoman)
- Niels Rotmensen (Secretary & Officer bachelor day)
- Krisiyan Dimitrov (Treasurer)
- Mariska Frelief (Officer camp & activists)
- Wout Velthuis (Logistics)
- Anamaria Ceban (Officer do-group market & integration)

They hope you are having a great time during camp!
Cheers!

Feuten het Feestje

From Pim

You may have heard - or already experienced - during your Kick-In that there is a certain subset of films and series that are iconic within the Inter-Actief culture. Amongst these are gems such as Eurotrip, or for myself Star Wars; following my saying "Just go watch Star Wars", meant to indicate that people need to take everything with a bit of salt sometimes. But the most iconic in this is Feuten het Feestje. Proudly I can predict that the majority of the people that are reading this will get in contact with this piece of art somewhere within their student life.

The film is a follow-up of the series Feuten, in which we follow Bram Wagtmans growing up from first years to senator, to civilian. So, in the film, we see Bram and his friends as civilians wanting to have a party one last time. Of course, the plot is not amazing in itself. But what makes it live rent-free in my heart, are the iconic quotes, terribly awkward scenes, bizarrely extreme climaxes and most of all, the way Dutch student culture is portrayed by this amazing spectacle. Long story short, look up take 1.5 hours and look up Feuten het Feestje on YouTube and congratulate yourself on discovering an amazing treasure.

Activism

From Quirijn

While enjoying the Kick-In over the past week, you have probably seen that there is a lot to do in Enschede and that there are many associations. Personally, I would highly suggest that you join at least one association that you like. There is so much more to explore besides studying!

Find something that you are interested in and where you want to be part of. Whether it is a sport, culture, study, or student association does not matter, as long as you are enjoying yourself. Besides having fun, you can also become an active member of your association and, for example, organize activities or help out behind the scenes. Doing this is also really enjoyable and it lets you develop yourself in a way that is different from your study. You will develop your social skills and work as a team. As Inter-Actief we think it's amazing if you want to become active! All activities are organized by our active members, after all. Take a look at this camp for example: There is a committee that organized the camp itself while many other committees have helped with all the activities that you are doing throughout the day. Thanks to all our amazing active members this event exists! If you are after reading this wondering if activism at Inter-Actief might be something for you. You can always talk to the Officer of Internal Affairs or sent an email to intern@inter-actief.net.

Eat like a Greek and not suffer from the heat

From Joris

It is that time of year again where the days are hot and the evenings are warm. You find yourself wondering which recipe you want to make before you head out to that long awaited Inter-Actief drink with your friends. However, the heat has gotten to you and a hot meal is the last thing you want. Fear not, we at the PVC have got you covered with the best pasta salad for those hot evenings while still giving you the layer you need to drink liters of Weizenbeer.

Preparation time: 20 minutes

Waiting time: 1 hour

Ingredients:

- 1 cucumber
- 1 green bell pepper
- 3 red onions
- 3 tomatoes
- 500 grams Penne pasta
- 400 grams White Cheese
- 80 grams Rucola
- Olive oil
- Pepper
- Salt
- Oregano

1. Slice the cucumber and red onions, cut the bell pepper and tomatoes into small pieces, dice the white cheese and add everything together in one big salad bowl

2. Cook the pasta al dente, drain the water from it, add some olive oil to prevent it from sticking together and add it to the salad bowl.

3. Add more olive oil, the oregano, lots of pepper and a bit of salt to the bowl and make sure it is well mixed.

4. Put the entire salad bowl in the fridge for at least an hour to have it cool down to a nice temperature.

5. Serve it with some Rucola and enjoy!

Activities

By Lars

Throughout your time as a student, you might not always be studying. To help with filling in your free time, Inter-Actief organises a lot of activities. These activities are not only a well-deserved break after a hard day of studying, but are also a great way to meet other students and to do things you have never done before. The activities that Inter-Actief offers are quite varied, having everything from casual drinks to sports activities, and even gaming and programming related activities. Here is a small list of fun activities that we organise throughout the year:

LAN party

If you like games and staying up late, then the LAN party is the perfect activity for you. Two times in the year, one of the rooms on campus will be transformed into the LAN party where people can play games during the entire weekend. That includes during the night as well. You can play any games you want, play with friends, and even participate in competitions organised by the committees. All in all, the LAN party is the place to be if you like to play video games, and what is even better is that the next LAN party is already planned for the 14th of October.

Lunch lectures

Some activities that Inter-Actief organises are used to help you get in contact with different companies looking for ICT students. One of the main ways Inter-Actief does this is with the weekly lunch lecture. Every Tuesday during lunch, a company visits to talk about what they do, and how they use ICT. Not only is this a great way to learn how different companies operate and how to get in touch, you can also enjoy a free lunch provided by the committee!

Inter-Actief Top 100

In the Netherlands, it has become a tradition to end the year listening to the Top 2000 from Radio 2, where the public ranks all music into a list of the best 2000 songs. At Inter-Actief, some of our members have created our own ranking, with the best 100 songs ranked by our members, and a lot of other students on campus. Even better, they transform the drinking room Abscint into the Top 100 café where the DJ's sit, and where you can also chill and listen to the music. In this way, the Inter-Actief top 100 is our way to close off the year and start the winter break.

Puzzle

By Maas

Hopefully you all know your typical cryptogram, but this one will be a bit harder all answers in this puzzle will be a bit more cryptic and will be a pun. Have fun with solving it together and learn a few terms/words you might need to learn while you study here.

If you have finished this puzzle, tell the answer to the committee. If you are the first do-group to get the correct answer, you can get a free round of drinks at the drink later today.
